EU Declaration of Conformity for Packaging within the Meaning of the PPWR

Prepared in accordance with Article 39 and Annex VIII of Regulation of the European Parliament and of the Council (EU) 2025/40 on packaging and packaging waste

Packaging description

1. Low-density polyethylene bag for food contact. It offers good tear resistance and elongation. The bag is designed for food packaging; use for other purposes is not recommended. Handle with care to avoid damage or tearing; if only part of the product is used, return the remainder to its original packaging. Avoid exposure to temperatures that could alter its properties.
2. These adhesive paper labels offer good adhesion to most substrates; according to the supplier, the adhesive was developed for use on fruit skins and their packaging. It is sensitive to solvents, UV rays, high temperatures, and plasticizers. Recommended application is for dry use; water resistance is low to moderate and non-permanent, as the material degrades more rapidly upon contact with water. When using only part of a roll, return the remainder to its original packaging. For proper application, the surface should be clean, dry, and free of grease, oils, or other contaminants that could affect the adhesive. The adhesive is pressure-sensitive and requires pressure for proper activation.
